HURIDOCS was founded 40 years ago to help human rights groups gather, organise and use information to create positive change in the world. We develop tools and strategies that make evidence, law and research more accessible to those who promote and protect human rights. Our goal now is to build on the successes of the past 40 years, but also to reflect on how we can have more impact, contribute to a healthy ecosystem to sustain this work and continue to learn.

GOAL 1: PIONEER
Explore technologies and methodologies with human rights defenders
- Research and development, including on machine learning and usability.
- Facilitate cross-sectoral explorations between human rights defenders, tech companies, academia and government.
- Co-create and share knowledge resources.

GOAL 2: EXPAND
Support human rights defenders to harness the power of information
- Support organisations with their informational, methodological and technological needs.
- Improve Uwazi to address needs at scale.
- Provide risk assessment and targeted support on digital security.
- Increase access by co-creating knowledge resources and providing starter templates for tools.
- Obtain deeper reach on key human rights issues and geographies.

GOAL 3: PRESERVE
Manage, protect and preserve information long-term
- Invest in scalable and reliable infrastructure for information storage and preservation.
- Focus on authenticity by design for robust and easily proven provenance of primary information.
- Improve accessibility of infrastructure, both with regard to cost and usability.
- Continuously enhance security practices and perform independent audits or bug bounties.

SUPPORTIVE GOAL: GROW
Strengthen HURIDOCS' capacity to provide needed long-term support
- Grow the budget through a mix of philanthropic and fee-for-service income.
- Explore a spin-off of Uwazi, while remaining mission-focused.
- Clarify pricing structure and pro bono policy with respect to access, offering and service.
- Revise policies and procedures relating to operations, security and MEL.
- Improve staff development to support defenders, as well as each other.
- Maintain and enhance a culture of respect.
